COMMUNITY WORK MUST COME FIRST

SAYS UEL W. LAMKIN IN ARMISTICE DAY ADDRESS

MUST STAMP OUT HATE

Should Remember Obligations Of American Citizenship—Harry A. Miller Is Chairman Of Meeting

Americans must promote the spirit of brotherhood in their own community if they desire to break down class and caste, jealousy and hatred in all the world.

This was the key-note of the address of Uel W. Lamkin at the Armistice Day program held in the tabernacle yesterday afternoon.

"We are going on in our preparations for war and hesitate to take the steps for world-wide peace," Mr. Lamkin said. "We must begin to stamp out hate in America, in our own town, if we wish to bring about a universal and lasting peace."

About 500 persons attended the program yesterday afternoon. A number of ex-service men were present in uniform.

Harry A. Miller was chairman of the meeting. He called attention to the importance of Armistice Day in the lives of Americans. He lauded the local V. F. W. in their efforts to promote the display of the American flag on all patriotic occasions.

"This display of flags today is remarkable," Mr. Miller continued. "I believe it is unequalled anywhere—to walk down our business streets and see our flag on every hand."

The program was opened by the singing of "America" by the audience. The Rev. S. P. Allison pronounced the invocation. A vocal solo was given by Arthur James Hamilton, director of music at the tabernacle meetings. The Rev. R. E. Snodgrass pronounced the benediction. The tabernacle cohrus director was in charge of the music of the day.

Mr. Lamkin said in part:

"Five years ago marked the end of the conflict of arms which was to determine whether or not civilization should endure. Today, we are gathered to celebrate this, our newest national holiday. It is well for us to remember the reasons for this national holiday.

"It will be a sad day for us when we forget the ringing of the bell in Independence Hall in Philadelphia, and use the day only for recreation. It is well for us to remember that this day should long be remembered in American history.

"It is well for us to remember and to celebrate the coming of the Christ. But it is a sad day if we celebrate for what we get instead of what we give.

"On this Armistice Day, it is well for us to remember the duties of American citizens.

"The call that took us into the great conflict was a call that came to all of us. It came first to the young man that could take over the duties of a soldier. But that call came to others just as well. It came to the workers as well as the leaders of America. It came to the miners, the factory workers, the farmers. It came to laborers who gave up those things for which they had fought—the eight-hour day and the forty-eight hour week. He increased his capacity to produce, and the laboring man, too, answered the call of war.

"The call came to the professional man, and it came to her who is called upon to smile through her tears and send her boy to the aid of America.

"The greatest honor that has been given is that to the 'Unknown Soldier' who testified to the spirit of American manhood on the fields of battle.

"America fought, England fought, Belgium fought, France fought, the other allies fought for civilization. They fought for the sanctity of a peace of paper, they fought for the freedom of the seas, they fought for the brotherhood and equality of man.

"There have been five nerve-racking years in the history of the world. Today, on this fifth anniversary of Armistice Day, the citizens of a once powerful nation have found their currency practically worthless; citizens once under the heel of a despotic czar, have founded a government even worse.

"The American has come home, and he has found the situation vastly different from what it was five years ago. We have been trying to solve the problems of the present. We have a great debt to play that can never be paid. This country has done more

147 DELEGATES AT RADPATH-VAWTER

CONVENTION HELD IN DES MOINES LAST FRIDAY

HARRY C. TODD ATTENDS

86 Towns Represented—Talent For the 1924 Chautauqua Programs Was Discussed

Eighty-six towns were represented at the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua convention held in Des Moines Friday. One hundred forty-seven delegates were present.

Harry C. Todd represented the Maryville chautauqua at the convention. D. E. Hotchkin, who was the other delegate appointed to represent Maryville, was unable to attend.

There were 100 towns in the Des Moines district having seven-day Redpath-Vawter chautauqua programs. Out of this number, thirty-six went over the "division point" in 1923 and participated in the distribution of profits. Maryville was one of these towns.

There was about $19,000 deficit in this circuit this year, an average of about $202 to each town on the circuit.

Talent for the 1924 chautauqua programs was discussed at the Des Moines meeting. It is very probable, Mr. Todd said this afternoon, that the Maryville audience next summer will have an opportunity to see, "Captain Applejack," and "Smilin' Through," two very popular stage productions.

Pinaforte or the Bohemion Girl will be presented at the chautauqua here next summer.

Other probabilities for the 1924 Maryville chautauqua include Charles Plattenburg, humorist and story teller, the Russian Cathedral Choir, consisting of four male singers; Judge Wade or Judge Kenyon of the U. S. Supreme Court.

It was decided at the Des Moines meeting to have Sunday programs but make them appropriate for the day.

There will be a man with a number of pigeons at the chautauqua here next summer. He will make a talk to the children about the care and training of pigeons. At one day during the chautauqua, he will release ten pigeons who will carry notes to headquarters about the progress of the chautauqua here. The pigeons will carry a full report of the local chautauqua.

STOCKYARDS AGREEMENT IS REACHED TODAY.

All Contending Factions Are To Have Representatives On Kansas City Stockyards Exchange

Kansas City, Nov. 12—A compromise agreement, regulating marketing and trading conditions on the Kansas City Livestock Exchange, has been made between the exchange and the Farmers' Union Livestock Commission, Inc., it was announced here today.

Under the agreement, marketing and trading conditions are to be determined at the stock yards by a "marketing crop committee," consisting of a government supervisor of packers and stock yards, and one representative each from the exchange at the Kansas City Stock yards Co., the trade livestock exchange, and the co-operative associations.

The farmers union organization was one of the three co-operative agencies which filed complaints with representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, alleging that co-operative associations were being boycotted by old line commission firms operating on the exchange.

Schnabel Working for a 50-Piece Orchestra

Loren Schnabel, leader of the High School orchestra, issued a challenge this morning at the assembly period to any other High School organization to show a better standing than the members of the orchestra. Mr. Schnabel said that 70 per cent of the members of this organization had an average scholastic standing of S in all their subjects. In this 70 per cent there are only a few M standings and outside the 70 per cent there are possibly a couple of I grades.

The High School orchestra gave a good program this morning for the assembly period. Mr. Schnabel is working for a fifty-piece orchestra by the end of the year.

2ND OF FIRESIDE SERMONS IS GIVEN

LAST NIGHT BY THE REV. S. P. ALLISON.

CHURCH IS DECORATED

Minister Tells of Most Discussed Subjects—Says There Is No One Theory of Evolution.

The second of a series of Fireside Talks that are being delivered at the Presbyterian Church by the Rev. S. P. Allison was given last night to a large congregation. The Reverend Allison chose for his subject 'Our Personal God and His World." Miss Jessie Parcher, Mrs. Joseph Jackson and Mrs. Norman Chamberlin were on the committee that arranged for the decoration for the church. Other women of the Women's Missionary Society acted as hostesses.

Luther A. Richman sang a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," during the services and the congregation gave memory Scripture verses. A portion of the Reverend Allison's address is given below:

"One of the most discussed subjects right now is the relation of Christianity and science, and especially to evolution. The purpose of this Fireside Talk, on our personal God and His world is to discover what light the personality of God throws on this important matter.

"In the first place we must remember that there is no one theory of evolution now. There are a great many different and often widely divergent theories. Darwinian evolution was a pioneer theory, and not now current among competent scholars. Evolution refers to the principle of growth, development and the gradual process of unfolding and upward progress.

"There are theories of evolution which are absolutely non-Christian, and which rule God, out, or make Him a mere impersonal force. But in such a case we should ask, is such a man a non-Christian because he holds to evolution, or because he denies God? I think the answer is that the reason he is not a Christian is not because he accepts some theory of evolution but because he is an atheist, and denies the personality of God.

"It seems to me that if we hold fast to the fact of the personality of God, the method of the making of the world is of secondary importance. The Bible is not a scientific text book It exists for spiritual purposes. From it we can discover the real concern of the Christian as to God and the world. Christianity is concerned with who made the world and what for, rather than how it was made.

"This is what the Bible stresses. Its first word is "In the beginning God." Namely, at the beginning of the world, God was already there. We do not know how long after the creation it was before the Bible began to be written, but when men did begin to write the Bible they went back to creation to clearly show the relation of God to His world. This is God's world is the important Bible teaching. In view of the personality of God, the command to man to subdue the world and have dominion over all things is far more vital for Christian than the method of making the world, although that method may be very interesting. God made this world suitable for personality and we who are made in his image are to develop our personalities and become the men and women God has made it possible for us to be.

M'ADOO TO ISSUE STATEMENT SOON

WILL FORMERLY ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY WITHIN 30 DAYS

HAS MANY CONFERENCES

His Platform Will Stress Domestic Policies—Talks Freely Of Railroad Situation

(Copyright 1923 International News)

Washington, Nov. 12—William Gibbs McAdoo will formerly declare himself to be a candidate for the Presidency within the next thirty days.

This was the understanding prevailing among Democratic leaders here today after a conclusion of a week's conference of the former Secretary of Treasury and a number of prominent party leaders in Washington.

The exact date for the announcement has not been fixed, but the avowal will be made soon after President Coolidge delivers his message to the Congress, a document which the Democrats are looking forward to with the keenest zest as well as the Republicans.

The report today brought an end to the busiest political period Washington has witnessed for months. During his stay of a week here, Mr. McAdoo conferred with every Democrat of prominence around the capitol and he had a number of long talks with his distinguished father-in-law, Woodrow Wilson.

From the conferences he had with Democrats here and from his somewhat guarded utterances to newspaper correspondents, the inference may be drawn that the chief plank in McAdoo's platform will be Democratic and domestic policies rather than foreign. McAdoo talked freely about the railroad problem and the agricultural situation, but about foreign policies he was very reticent. He spoke about a "sensible foreign policy" without going into details of such a policy.

Just before leaving Washington, Mr. McAdoo said to an International News correspondent:

"The railroads must get rid of their armed chair' methods, and their standard of service must be improved so they can produce cheaper transportation. This must be done without reducing wages or impairing legitimate business policies."

DEMOCRATIC "LOVE FEAST" AT MEETING

HARMONY IS KEY-NOTE OF STATE COMMITTEE PARLEY.

TRADE IS SUGGESTED

Wets Would Exchange Hawes for Atkinson—Problem of Negro Influx Is Discussed at Meeting.

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—Party harmony was the key-note today of the meeting of the Democratic state committee here.

The members of the committee headed off a renewal of the 1921-23 factional fights among Missouri Democrate by agreeing informally on Senator Reed and Breckenridge Long for two of the "Big Four" delegates to next year's national convention.

It was the exclusion of Reed from the 1920 convention in San Francisco that brought on the party row three years ago and contributed to a Republican landslide in Missouri. Friends of Reed, including Robert Glenn of Louisiana, Mo., the senior Senator's campaign manager, and W. R. Hollister of Jefferson City, literally buried the hatchet in today's meeting, and decided to avoid a factional fight over old differences.

Harmony talk went so far that Col. J. H. Dickbrader of Washington, Mo., former state hotel inspector, suggested in an interview that the wets and drys compromise their differences on getting together on John M. Atkinson of St. Louis as candidate for Governor next year in exchange for a pledge by the drys to support Congressman Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis for the next United States Senatorial nomination.

Atkinson has for years been a prominent dry, and Hawes a leader of the wets.

The influx of negroes into the state from the South and the danger of these negroes voting illegally next year and controlling the election, was discussed informally by party leaders before the state committee met. Glenn declared that the party organization should take steps to warn the negroes that penitentiary sentences awaited them if they voted illegally. He declared that there were enough negroes in St. Louis to control the election.

Road Committees Will Meet With Governor

After Conference Tomorrow, Hyde Will Decide Whether Or Not Special Session Is Feasible

Jefferson City, Nov. 12—Governor Arthur M. Hyde today said decision whether to call a special road session of the Missouri Legislature to enact legislation to speed up the road contract program will depend upon what assurance the combined highway committees of the two legislative houses give him after a conference tomorrow upon an agreement how to raise the additional revenue required for maintenance. After a definite plan can be arranged by the committee, the Governor intimated that there would not be great delay in the issuance of a call for a special session.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson and children of Fairfax spent Sunday in Maryville at the home of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Thana Hope, on West Second street.

SAYS WALTON HAS HAD MANY THREATS

GOVERNOR AND CHILDREN HAVE BEEN THREATENED

CLOSE GUARD NECESSARY

H. S. Martin, National Guard Lieutenant, Testifies That Executive's Life Is In Peril

Oklahoma City, Nov. 12—Threats against the life of Governor J. C. Walton of Oklahoma and his children are so frequent that his children are not permitted to go to school alone, and a twenty-four hour guard is kept around the governor's mansion.

This was the testimony given at the Walton impeachment trial this afternoon by H. S. Martin national guard lieutenant, who guards the mansion at night.

Martin asserted that Governor Walton had been receiving threatening letters for eighteen months and many of them had been delivered at the house recently.

"On one occasion, a mysterious man attempted to enter the governor's house," Martin said. "I shot at him and he ran."

Senator Tom Anglin of the impeachment court objected to Martin's statement that the threatening letters started when Walton issued a proclamation, as mayor, against the Ku Klux Klan. The court unanimously sustained the objection. It was significant of the hope of the court to keep the Ku Klux Klan issue out of the case.

This is degenerating into police court procedure," Senator C. E. McPherren, member of the court, declared after a wrangle of attorneys over Martin's testimony.

The state accused Walton of using Martin for private purposes, which he was being paid as a national officer.

County Exhibit to Be Put in State Capitol

Marcell To Make Twelve Of Fifteen Hand-Colored Photographs Of Nodaway County Scenes

Nodaway County exhibits, consisting of twelve or fifteen photographs, will be placed in the state capitol building at Jefferson City.

The photographs, which will be about 11 x 14, will be hand-colored and will be made by F. R. Marcell. They will consist of agricultural and scenics, as well as photographs of products for which Nodaway County is noted. They will be put in the north wing of the capitol building on the first floor.

Mr. Marcell said this afternoon that the pictures will be completed about May 1, and will then be sent to Jefferson City. The project is being financed by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, and is being planned and directed by R. A. Kinnaird of the Nodaway County Farm Bureau.

The committee in charge of this work will be glad to receive suggestions from citizens of the county as to what else should go in the Nodaway County exhibit at the state capitol.

EVERHART CAR SKIDS IN DITCH SOUTH OF TOWN

No One Is Injured Except For Bruises—Car Is Damaged—On Savannah Road

for her disabled soldiers than all the nations have done before in the history of mankind.

"On coming back to America, we find it torn by groups and blocs and class and hatred. We find profiteers exacting their toll in time of peace as well as in the time of war. We are going on with our preparations for war and hesitate to take steps for world-wide peace.

"The time has come for us to ask ourselves why these things should exist today. We must revere our flag and understand what it really means for all of us. We must understand that this flag represents the sea fights, and the land fights of American citizens who have a spirit of service, a spirit of patriotism.

"We cannot properly think of our flag if we always think of material things, but we can do it if we only say to ourselves, 'How can I best serve mankind? How can I stamp out hate in America? How can I bring about a better feeling in my own town? What can I do to bring about a world-wide brotherhood of man?'

"If we can do all of this, we can help bring about the time when all the world can cast aside its implements of war. The story is told of a powerful Indian tribe of old, none of which had ever seen the sea. The chief called all of the men together and said that he wanted some one of them to find the sea. All of them departed. The first came back and he was asked if he found the sea. 'No, but I saw yonder a great herd of buffaloes which can supply us meat.

"The next day, a second Indian returned and he was asked the same question. 'No, I didn't see the sea, but I saw vast stretches of pasture land upon which our cattle can graze.' A third Indian returned, and upon being asked the question, replied 'No I have not seen the sea but I have found a great mine that will furnish jewels for all of the tribe.

"One by one, the Indians returned, but all of them had seen only material things and had not seen the sea. Finaly, the last of the Indians returned and he was met by the other tribesmen who asked, 'Didn't you see the great herd of buffalo, the pasture land and the jewel mine?'

"'No, I did not see the great herd of buffaloes, the vast pasture land or the great jewel mine. I have seen none of these, but I have seen the sea, I have seen the sea.'

"So, may America see the sea of a great universal brotherhood of man."

PICKERING AGAIN COUNY CHAMPIONS

BY VIRTUE OF WIN OVER QUITMAN REPEATED RECORD.

PARNELL GIRLS WON

Parnell Proved Far Superior in Girls' Contest Winning by Big Margins —Both Teams Enter Contest.

The Pickering boys and Parnell girls won the right to defend the honor of Nodaway County in the outdoor basketball tournament to be held at the College, by virtue of winning the championship Saturday night in the Nodaway County tournament held at the high school gymnasium. Both of the teams had hard battles at every game and deserve all of the credit for winning the contest. Silver cups were presented to the captains of both teams and basketballs to Clearmont girls and Quitman boys, as runners- up in the tourney.

The Pickering-Quitman boys' game was a hotly contested game, Pickering nosing out by a six point lead for the championship. The Pickering team work was working good, but long shots by the Quitman forwards put Quitman in the lead several times. In the last half it was a nip and tuck affair until Burks flipped in a long shot and his teammates aided in securing a six-point lead. Bailey and Palmer of Quitman were the outstanding players on the runners-up while Burks was superior for the Pickering squad by his fast floor work. Parnell girls defeated the Clearmont girls in a 55 to 5 fashion.

The Parnell girls started out early to win the championship game, Miller tossing in a field goal and placing the team in a 2 to 0 lead. This was followed by a basket made over head of Miller which counted one point. Another field goal placed Parnell well in the lead. From then on it was only a question of how large the final count would be.

Sam Dubbim of Bedford officiated in the championship game for the girls. The gymnasium was filled to capacity.

The score at the end of the quarter was 13 to 0 in favor of Parnell. Jenkins was sent in for Beam on the Clearmont line-up. The half ended 20 to 4. The accurate goal shooting of Miller and Jones was the cause of the downfall of the Clearmont team.

The box score of the game was as follows:

"WE SHALL WIN" WILSON'S WORD

WAR PRESIDENT SAYS HIS PRINCIPLES WILL TRIUMPH.

IN ADDRESS SUNDAY

"I Have Seen Fools Resist Providence and I Have Seen Their Destruction," Wilson Says.

Washington, Nov. 12—Woodrow Wilson, addressing friends and admirers who made an Armistice day pilgrimage to his home here, declared yesterday that he is not one of those that have the least anxiety about the triumph of the principles for which he has stood.

"I have seen fools resist Providence before," he said, "and I have seen their destruction, as will come upon these again—utter destruction and contempt. That we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns."

Mr. Wilson spoke from the front portico of his S street residence to a cheering throng of thousands who packed the sidewalks and street and overflowed into nearby streets. His address was the second in 24 hours and the third he has delivered since he left the White House.

Assisted by Attendant

Bent with four years of illness, the former president was assisted by a negro attendant to negotiate the single step that led to the portico.

After waving his hat in response to an outburst of applause, he stood with bared head while Senator Carter H. Glass of Virginia delivered the address on behalf of the visitors.

At the conclusion of Glass' address, Mr. Wilson held a brief whispered conference with the senator and then began to speak.

"I am indeed deeply touched and honored by this extraordinary exhibition of your friendship and confidence," he said, "and yet I can say without affection that I wish you would transfer your homage from me to the men who made this Armistice possible. It was possible because our boys had beaten the enemy to a standstill. You know, if you will allow me to be didactic for a moment, 'armistice' merely means 'stand still of arms.' Our late enemies, the Germans, call an armistice 'waffen stand still'—an armed standstill—and it was our boys that made them stand still."

Audience Appreciative

There was laughter and applause.

"If they had not," Mr. Wilson continued, "they would not have listened to proposals of armistice.

"They proposed to remember that I had the honor to be the commander-in-chief of the most ideal army that was ever thrown together—pardon my emotion—though the real fighting commander-in-chief was General Pershing, whom I gladly hand the laurels of victory.

"I thank you with all my heart for your kindness."

Several times during his remarks, Mr. Wilson faltered and his face twitched. Mrs. Wilson came forward from the door, but the former president quickly rallied and continued his address. He stood unassisted beside Senator Glass.

Wilson Raises Hand

The band which had led the parade from Dupont Circle to the Wilson home began to play "How Firm a Foundation," but before it had concluded the hymn, Mr. Wilson made a signal for silence and said:

"Just one word more. I cannot refrain from saying it: I am not one of those that have the least anxiety about the triumph of the principles I have stood for.

"I have seen fools resist Providence before and I have seen their destruction, as will come upon those again—after destruction and contempt. That we shall prevail is as sure as that God reigns."

Then in an aside to those near him, Mr. Wilson said: "That's about all I can do."

Crowd Lingers

The former president was assisted into his home again but it was announced that he and Mrs. Wilson soon would depart for their afternoon automobile ride and the crowd remained, the police having difficulty in clearing a lane for the automobile, which appeared a few minutes later.

Yesterday's ceremonies differed from those at the Wilson home on the two past Armistice days, which turned into demonstrations on the League of Nations. Only once to day was the league mentioned. Senator Glass referring to it in his address for the former president.

The addresses of Mr. Wilson and Senator Glass contained no set program.

Senator Glass declared that the friends and admirers of Mr. Wilson "are here to renew our faith and to signify the unabated loyalty of millions of Americans to that immutable cause which you, more than any man on earth, so impressively personify."

once said to me that he did not mind if a minister in using a scientific illustration was not absolutely accurate in the details, 'as long as he made his point.' The Bible is concerned with making the point of a personal God, who made this world, who is now in this world, and who expects men to live as He wants them to live.

"Many different theories of the world have been found in the Bible. The Ptolmaic theory of the universe was once proved from the Bible. Now we hold to the Copernican theory, and laugh at any one who says the world is flat, and that the sun goes around the earth, and yet the Ptolmaic theory on the surface view would fit in with Bible statement better than the Copernican theory.

This teaches us an important lesson which is not to accommodate the Bible to any theory of the world. A generation or two from now it is perfectly possible that vastly different theories of the world will be current. But equally certain is it that however that may be the same Bible, the same God and the same truth which we now hold will hold. We have the final truth about God, made clear through Jesus Christ. We do not have the final truth about science and the physical world. Then why try to accommodate the Bible to the current theories of the world, thinking thereby to strengthen Christianity.

"One wise man has said "There can be no conflict between true science and true religion, if they are parts of one common reality. The only clas can be between an unbelieving science and an unscientific belief." We are simply dealing in religion and science with the same thing from different points of view. Science asks How? Christianity asks By whom? What for?

"Far from being an enemy of religion and the idea of a personal God, many men are now saying that modern science is strongly re-enforcing the Christian thought of a personal God. Says one "The most important thing is not that science should assert this or that view, but that there should be any science at all." The very existence of science testifies to a rational order in the universe. We are thinking beings and we find so many indications a thinker at work in the world that it is becoming harder and harder to hold that it is the result of impersonal forces. We read a book and conclude that some person wrote it, for we find in the book the same sort of things we, thinking beings, would have put there. It conveys meaning to our minds. Thought can not interpret the unmeaning, the irrational. So when in our study of the world we find that which thought can interpret we are confident that in Nature thought is to be found.

"What true science has really done is to enrich our idea of God. I ask you which gives the richer idea of God, the Ptolmaic theory of a flat earth, etc., or the Copernican theory of the universe, with the different orbits of the heavenly bodies, everything in just the right relationship to everything else. How much more wonderful a God has been revealed by our discovery of the great complexity of the world and the forces of Nature. Truly "the earth is the Lord's and the the fullness thereof. The world and they that dwell therein."

"The personality of God thus teaches us that we do not have to say to our young people "Choose between religion and science." "The Bible and Science" rather can we, and should we say "Consider this world in all its marvelous perfection, its balance of forces, its complexity, and its outstanding inherent unity, and then consider what a wonderful God it is that could produce such a world."

"Our world, with all the hard things it contains that men must endure, is in spite of them, rather because of them, a world that makes strong personalities. I ask you which is more reasonable, that blind, impersonal forces should be the cause of such a world; or that a wonderful, rich personality was the creator, and is the sustaining and governing power keeping things going today.

"As Christians it is very interesting to know how the world was made. But it is absolutely vital to know who made it, and what for. When we learn that God made this world for men to live in, and develop in personality such as Christ exemplified, we have the clue to the most worthwhile life. We have a guide for the making of right choices."

Sunday School Meet at Joplin Nov. 20-23

Joplin is making ready for the convention of the Missouri Sunday School Association which meets there Nov. 20-23. All of Southwest Missouri, "the land of a million smiles," is planning to make this a great event. Mr. W. F. Eves, President of the Interstate Grocer Company, is General Chairman for local arrangements. He has associated with him as chairman of different committees men and women of much ability and prominence. Walter Over, Secretary of the Red Cross, is chairman of Music and Pageantry, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Joiner and Miss Harriet Walker. Other chairmen are: Mrs. James Blake, Entertainment; Rev. Mills Anderson, Registration; Mr. Gravelle, Y. M. C. A. Secretary, Ushers. These committees were selected many months ago and are now working hard to care for the several thousand delegates who are expected at the convention. Mr. Over reports that Jasper County alone expects to place a thousand of its Sunday school workers into the convention.

Miss Harriet Edna Beard, Acting General Secretary of the Missouri Sunday School Association, says that speakers of national fame in Sunday school work will be present. Speakers from Boston, Chicago, Denver, Enid (Oklahoma), Indianapolis and Green Castle (Indiana) are expected. Music and Pageantry will occupy a large place on the convention program. H. Augustine Smith, Professor of Music and Pageantry of Boston University, will put on several of his big pageants. On Thursday evening, in the High School Auditorium, his program will consist of: 1. Congregation singing; Hymn Festival Service with choir; Congregation Trumpeter. 2. Steriopticon—From the Nativity to the Coronation; Art Slides in the colors of the original convasses; A symphony of picture, color, music. 3. Pageant—The Commonwealth of God; The Flag of Freedom; Wreaths of Commemoration; Bells of Peace and World Fellowship; 200 singers, beautiful lighting and costumes.

On Wednesday evening, the Young People's Division will give a dramatization of their "Standard for Class Organization." A very beautiful pageant entitled "The Artist Who Forgot Four Colors," will be given by the Children's Division, while a little play "Any Child" will be given by the Adult Division. Three big banquets are being planned for Wednesday evening, one for the Children's Division workers, one for the Young People's workers, and another for the Adults. A program of fun and fellowship will follow the banquet.

Housed in what is said to be one of the most beautiful temples in the United States, the Scottish Rite Temple, will be the "Temple of Fine Arts" in charge of H. Augustine Smith. This will show the place of fine art in Christian education, featuring thousands of dollars' worth of reprints in colors from the famous art galleries, the famous Abbey pictures of the Holy Grail, William Ladd Taylor's Series of Old Testament Psalms, and Heroes and Heroines of All Times.

One thousand members of Bible classes are expected to attend the convention. A very strong program has been arranged for the Adult workers. The last session of the main convention has been planned for them, the program centering around "The Place of the Home in Religious Education."

The railroads have promised special rates for the convention.

Miss Dessa Gault, county treasurer, and Mrs. C. P. Fryar, county secretary will attend the convention. There will probably be others from this county that will attend.

Good-Will

SHAKESPEARE appraised good-will at its true value when he said:

"Who steals my purse steals trash;
'tis something, nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name
Robs me of that which not enriches him
And makes me poor indeed."

It is good-will that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) great.

Good-will is prized more highly by the Management of this Company than any other factor or element in the business.

Good-will is born of confidence.

Confidence is the inevitable result of ability to serve—proved over long periods of time.

In short, good-will is the child of Service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) long ago became convinced that when service is rendered to the public, profits follow—as surely as night follows day.

The more whole-souled, the more energetic, the more enthusiastic the service, the greater the profits.

Service is interpreted in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to mean something more than the perfunctory delivery of petroleum products.

It means going to any lengths to get Standard Oil products to the consumer, wherever he may be, in such quantities as may be desired—whether in thousand gallon lots or five gallon lots.

It means the highest standard of quality in manufacture and the maintenance of this standard at all times.

It means exerting every atom of facilities at the Company's command, to discover and develop new products from crude petroleum that will add to the comforts and refinements of life.

It is this enthusiastic spirit of intensive service—plus the every day practice of the principles of equity, fairness and justice—manifest at every point of contact between the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the public—that has gained for this Company the good-will, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Vigorous Old Age

WHY separate youth and old age with a deep and ever-widening abyss?

The bloom of youth and the hardy, ruddy glow of Old Age—sixteen and sixty—should be separated only by the span of years and not by varying differences of physical wholesomeness.

Vigorous old age is within the grasp of all. S. S. S. brings that hale and hearty feeling back with a rush. Rich red blood is the greatest enemy of weakening, health undermining Old Age. S. S. S. builds Red Blood Cells. Rich, red blood coursing through your veins sweeps away impurities that retard the proper functioning of your system. Old Age—once a dreaded agony becomes a vigorous, enjoyable, care free time of life.

S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks—scientifically prepared and proportioned. Welcome Old Age when it comes. Be ready to withstand the attacks of diseases that follow in its wake. Meet Old Age with a hearty handshake. A handshake that speaks of well being—of a vigorous, clear thinking, red blooded constitution. S. S. S. is your best friend when Old Age is seen rounding the corner. Get a bottle and drive care and worry away. All leading drug stores carry it. The large size is the more economical.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

TABERNACLE SEATS 2000 LAST NIGHT

ORCHESTRA UNDER SCHNABEL RENDERS PROGRAM

TEN MAKE RESPONSES

Two Special Services This Week—Tuesday For Men and Friday For Women

Fully two thousand people crowded themselves into the big tabernacle for the services last night. Many were standing around that could not be seated, as the aisles had to be left open and it made perhaps the largest number yet at any one service.

The service began before 7:30 o'clock as the building was filled. The orchestra rendered a special selection and by request they gave another number which they had given a few nights before, and the audience demanded still another selection, so the orchestra under the direction of Loren Schnabel gave a fine musical program at the beginning.

A male quartette sang a new arrangement of "Crossing the Bar." This composition is the work of the Rev. R. L. McCanon of the Hopkins church and its use last night was the first in any public gathering. Mr. McCanon has dedicated this song to the Nodaway County Campaign. Arthur Hamilton sang very effectively a strong evangelistic message as his solo.

Evangelist O. E. Hamilton's sermon last night was based upon the three parables found in the Fifteenth chapter of Luke. It had to do with the lost coin, the lost sheep and the lost boy. "As the woman searched diligently for the lost coin, so must the people of God search diligently for the lost men and women about them," declared Mr. Hamilton. The joy of soul winning was emphasized in the sermon and incidentally a rap was given those in the community who fear too much excitement in revivals of this kind.

There were ten who responded to the invitation last night. With the twelve who were added in the morning service, it made twenty-two additions for the day. This makes a total of 133 responses in the tabernacle meetings. This does not count the several additions to the churches outside of Maryville in other services.

Tonight there will be services in all the Christian churches of the county, excepting the Guilford Church. All the pastors, evangelists and several gospel teams will be used. The Hamiltons will go to Elmo.

There are to be two special services this week at the tabernacle. One on Tuesday night especially for men, when all men present will be seated in the center section and Mr. Hamilton will address them upon the subject, "The Man Who Can't Beat God." A men's chorus will furnish music. Then on Friday night the women's service will be held when the women will have the center section, and furnish the music. These services will attract large numbers. Fully 1000 men are expected in the special meeting Tuesday. Special offerings will be received at these services. As Mr. Hamilton puts it, he will find out who carries the pocket book in Nodaway County, as the offerings on these two nights are compared. The offering last night was $332.00. It is likely that all the incidental expenses of the meeting will be wiped out by next Sunday night. The offerings will cease when enough money has been collected.

Is Probably First In Nodaway County—To Be Unveiled At Program To Be Given In Near Future

A Missouri state flag, probably the first in Nodaway County, has been purchased by the patrons of the Lasher School district, and will be unveiled in the school at a program to be given in the near future.

Last year, the Lasher School won the $10 prize offered by the D. A. R. for the best episode that was portrayed in the school parade. The episode given was the Oxford Minuet in the colonial costumes. The state flag was purchased with this money.

The flag is a yard wide and five feet long. The red and white stripes alternate. The star field is placed around the Missouri state seal which is in the center of the flag.

Miss Lucile Masters and Mrs. O. L. Job were members of committee that purchased the flag from a firm in New York.

Medals Awarded by Meat Packers

The three silver medals offered by the Institute of American Meat Packers at the Baby Beef Show held recently in St. Joseph, Mo., were awarded as follows:

Lila Wray of Hopkins, Mo., won the prize for the best bred Shorthorn calf exhibited. This prize was presented by W. A. Cochel of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association.

Dale Steck of Rock Port, Mo., won the prize for the calf considered to be most typical of Hereford character and the most suitable representative of the breed for the production of beef. His medal was presented by H. L. Miller, field representative of the American Hereford Breeders' Association.

Laverne Butts of Ravenwood, Mo., was awarded the prize for the best bred Aberdeen-Angus calf.

These medals were offered by the Institute of American Meat Packers to stimulate interest among boys and girls in better breeding methods, especially in the superiority of the well-bred calf over the ordinary scrub.

CORN HERE WILL YIELD 39 BUSHELS

ACCORDING TO CROP REPORT FOR NOVEMBER 1.

PRICE 62 CENTS BUSHEL

91 Per Cent Is Estimated to Be Merchantable—State Report 30 Bushel Acre.

The farmers of Nodaway County in preparing their crop report for Novemebr 1, say corn will yield 39 bushels per acre, that 91% is merchantable, and that the contract or offering price is 62 cents per bushel. The acreage to be gathered as grain is 84%, hogged off 10%, and put in silos 6%. The yield of silage was 5 tons per acre.

The 1923 Missouri corn crop is forecasted at thirty bushels per acre upon 6,396,000 acres or 191,880,000 bushels compared to 28.5 per acre upon 6,150,000 totaling 175,275,000 last year, according to E. A. Logan of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Jewell Mayes of the State Board of Agriculture.

The Missouri corn yield at 30 bushels per acre is equal to 1921 and better than since 1917 when the yield was 35 bushels per acre. Northern counties run from 33 to 35 bushels, middle 29 to 34, southern 16 to 31, with the low yields in the southwest. The portion merchantable is 81%, which is less than last year, due to chinch bugs, rains, and windstorms especially throughout the central counties and frost damage in the the southeast. Cribbing is beginning late, and will not be general before the middle of November. Corn is too sappy for marketing and frosty, clear weather being needed.

Very little old corn was in farm cribs on November 1, being only 3.6% of the 1922 crop. The average farm price per bushel for new corn is 79c, being three to six cents under this price in the surplus producing counties, and 9 to 10 cents above in the deficient counties. The area harvested for grain this year is 84% of the acreage, hogged off 9%, and cut for silos 7%, with average yield of six tons of silage per acre. Acreage cut for fodder 27%.

Wheat seeding was delayed in the northwest and central counties from rains, and work continued late into October, and some wheat was sown after November 1. Wheat is coming up to a good stand and the soil has plenty of moisture. The heavy late rains, interfering with seeding, influenced the expected acreage of the later summer in some counties. Winter wheat seeding acreages will be announced in December.

Clover seed is a poor crop, yielding only 1.6 bushels per acre with 14,000 acres cut, or total of 22,000 bushels compared to 36,000 last year. Continued rains and scattered harvestings may result in much clover seed not being threshed. Grain sorghums average 3 tons per acre or 526,000 against 507,000 last year, yield of grain 21 bushels, totaling 294,000 compared to 300,000 in 1922.

Soybeans yielded 12 bushels per acre or total of 360,000 bushels, compared to 165,000 last year; cowpeas 9 bushels per acre on 21,000 acres or 189,000 bushels, same as last year. Lack of machinery will result in some soybeans not being threshed. Timothy is threshing 3.8 bushels per acre or 307,000 bushels upon 81,000 acres, compared to 336,000 bushels in 1922.

Tobacco yielded 1,100 pounds per acre or 7,700,000 pounds, compared to 4,500,000 last year. Acreage was increased from 5,000 to 7,000 this year, the new districts being Boone, Howard, and Taney Counties. Tobacco has not all been stripped yet, and was damaged by frosts in Schuyler County.

Commercial apples are estimated at 706,000 barrels compared to 1,250,000 last year. Apple trees on farms are holding their own in numbers, and a slight increase is shown in the commercial orchards.

Potatoes were good, with yield of 99 bushels per acre or 9,207,000 bushels compared to 5,400,000 in 1922. Sweet potatoes upon 14,000 acres at 108 bushels total 1,512,000 bushels, compared to 1,330,000 last year. Sorgo (sorghum) sirup yielded 88 gallons per acre or 1,936,000 gallons compared to 1,920,000.

Fall work has been delayed by rains, interfering with wheat seeding and the drying out of corn for husking. Soil is in good condition, with plenty of moisture. Fall pasturage is good in northern sections, and live stock are healthy, with only local outbreaks of hog cholera well under control. Some southern counties will be short of forage. More stocker and feeder cattle, hogs and sheep have been shipped into Missouri in 1923 than in 1922.
